Founded and cultivated by Brittany Loewen, Celeste Sound Alchemy provides Sound Transmissions designed to help listeners relax and enter a realm where they can recalibrate physically, emotionally, and spiritually through the resonance of sound vibrations.

With over 20 years of training and mastery in classical vocal arts and musical performance and expression, Brittany uses her voice and other healing instruments to create unique, unforgettable sound meditations.

Brittany's transmissions weave a tapestry of instrumental sounds, classical voice, original songs, vocal effects, and mimics of nature into experiences that participants describe as calming, healing and profound.

The Ideal Guest Experience

Like the ripples created when water's surface is touched, sound vibrations create a ripple effect that can pass into the body and be felt on a cellular level. A sound bath is an immersive experience where the listener's body is surrounded by sound vibrations of different frequencies. Studies in neuroscience have proven the healing benefits of vibrational acoustic therapy, reporting increased blood circulation, muscular relaxation, and vagal nerve stimulation.

Listeners often feel "transformed" after a sound bath. They become calmer and more relaxed, more open and receptive, and more comfortable in their bodies. There is often a feeling of deep appreciation for the experience, increasing guests' sense of value and care from you as the provider.
